Spotlight: Rent The Runway

Every fashionably-inclined female can relate to the age-old nothing to wear scenario. Even if you have a closet full of glamorous clothes, there are still days when it all feels snoozy and repetitive—who wants to wear the same thing over and over? Since buying a new dress every weekend is not exactly the best solution—however tempting it may be—I am so excited to tell you about the recently launched Rent The Runway service! You see, with the simple click of your mouse, you can have a designer dress from the current season delivered straight to your doorstep, without breaking the bank! If that is not fashion-forward, then what is?

How it works: After you sign-up, you choose a dress from one of more than 45 amazing designers (DVF, Proenza Schouler and Prabal Gurung, to name a few) to rent for either a 4-day or 8-day period. To ensure that your frock is the perfect fit, Rent The Runway will send you two sizes of your choice—perfection!—and for only $25 more, will also send a back-up style. Once you have worn your chosen number for a noteworthy night, just pop it back in the mail. Not to worry, prepaid packaging is included and dry cleaning is taken care of! Honestly, this is MAH-JOR! Ready. Set. Rent. xoRZ

Availability: Rent The Runway ($50-$200). Instant access is available now, exclusively to The Zoe Report readers at RentTheRunway.com/RachelZoe.

P.S. Looking for another reason to love Rent The Runway? Check back in April, when they launch accessories from designers such as Rachel Leigh, Citrine by the Stones, Janis Savitt and Kara Ross starting at $10!
